A Strategy for Revision

PiXL Revisit - a strategy for revision.

The increased complexity and content of the newly reformed GCSE and A Level exams means that effective revisiting is essential if our students are to achieve academic success.

As teachers, our capacity is already stretched to the limit, ensuring that content and skills are covered during curriculum time. Our evenings are often busy with intervention and therapy sessions to consolidate knowledge and to prepare students as fully as possible for the rigour of their exams. We teach, challenge, assess, feedback and intervene in the hope that our guidance will get them through. However, there is a time every year when we must leave our students to their own devices. We must let them go... armed only with their revision guides, some general advice and some well wishes.

Our main concern, for some pupils, is whether they will actually revise enough in the time they have left. Our second concern is whether the methods they use to revisit will be effective. We certainly don't want our students expending energy and time studying in a way that produces no fruit.

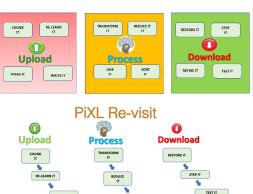

So how can we ensure our students are working effectively outside of the classroom? What does good revisiting look like? The newly reformed exams mean that students will have to recall greater amounts of facts and knowledge quickly. While rote learning and regurgitating content doesn't lead to deep thinking, we know that firstly the information needs to go in, through memorisation of key facts. Fundamental knowledge needs to be embedded, even imprinted on the minds of students to facilitate quick and easy recall. Next, students need to deepen their knowledge through higher-order thinking because information learned and processed through higher-order thinking processes is remembered longer and more clearly than information that is processed through lower-order, rote memorisation. Finally, students need to retrieve, demonstrate, apply and test their learning.

PiXL Revisit is a simple revisiting method that ensures students are preparing for external exams in aneffective way. It is based on the three key stages explainedabove and is arranged around a 10-week cycle.PiXL Re-visit

- Stage 1 Upload - Embedding the knowledge.
- Stage 2 Process - Deepening the knowledge.
- Stage 3 Download Demonstrating the knowledge.

The strategy comes with a clear and simple methodology, as well as revisiting templates to organise the learning. A learning schedule is also provided, which can be dictated by the teacher or planned by the students.

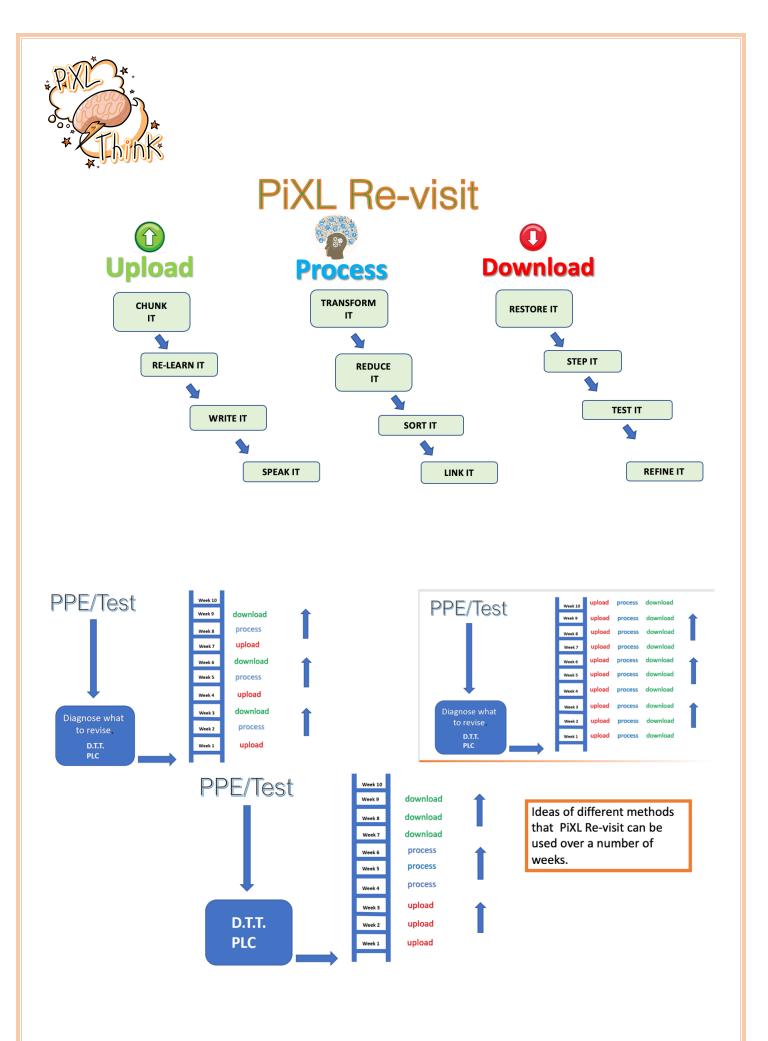

This pack contains templates we have produced to embed the "Thinking Hard" devices and to use them in the PiXL Revisit Strategy. It also includes a calendar to enable our students to be more independent in their revision. This is most effective when used by individual subjects to ensure that revision is targetted and precise. In the pack, we have also included BLANK sheets and sheets with instructions.

The methodolgy of PiXL Revisit is described in more detail in the breakout slides. We hope this is useful in enabling students to engage with and think deeply about the material they are revisiting and, by doing this, embed it into their memory.

Tak	e a section of the text and do the following:
1)	Prioritise: Underline the three most important sentences here. Rank 1-3, briefly explain number 1. Cross
-,	out the least important sentence.
2)	Reduce: Reduce the key information into 12 words.
3)	Transform: Transform this information into four pictures or images (no words allowed).
4)	Categorise: Sort this information into three categories. Highlight and think of a suitable title for each
